PLATFORM OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY

[Adopted at Cincinnati, June 15, 1876.] When, in the economy of Providence, this land was to be purged of human slavery, and when the strength of the government of the people by the people and for the people was to be demonstrated, the Republican party came into power. Its deeds have passed into history, and we look back to them with pride Incited by their memories and high aims for the good of our country and mankind, and looking to the future with courage, hope and purpose, we, the representatives of the party, the National Convention assembled, make the following declaration of principles: 1. The United States of America is a nation, not a league. By the combined working of the national and State governments, under their respective constitutions, the rights of every citizen are secured at home and protected

2. The Republican party has preserved these governments to the hundredth anniversary of the nation's birth, and they are now the em-bodiments of the great truths spoken at its cradle-"that all men are created equal: that they are endowed by their Creator with certain they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalicnable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that for the attainment of these ends governments have been instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." Until these truths are cheerfully obeyed, or, if need be, vigorously enforced, the work of the Remyllican party is unfinished. the Republican party is unfinished. 3. The permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union, and the complete protection of its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights are duties to which the Republican party stands sacredly pledged. The power to provide for the enforcement of the principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendments is in the Congress of the United States, and we declare it to be the solemn obligation of the Legislative and Ex-ecutive Departments of the Government to put into immediate and vigorous use all their constitutional powers for removing any just causes of discontent on the part of any class, and for securing to every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the ex-ercise of all civil, political and private rights. To this end we imperatively demand a Con-gress and a Chief Executive whose courage and fidelity to these duties shall not falter until these results are placed beyond dispute 4. In the first act of Congress signed by President Grant, the National Government as-sumed to remove any doubts of its purpose to discharge its just obligation to public creditors, and solemnly pledged its faith to make pre sion, at the earliest practicable moment, for the redemption of United States notes in coin. Commercial prosperity, public morals and the national credit demand that this promise be fulfilled by a continuous and steady progress to specie payment.

5. Under the Constitution the President and heads of departments are to make nomina-tions for office, the Senate is to advise and consent to the appointments, and the House of Representatives is to accuse and prosecute of Representatives is to accuse and prosecute faithless officers. The best interests of the public service demand that these distinctions be respected, and that Senators and Represen; tatives, who may be judges and accusers, should not dictate appointments to office. The invariable rule for appointments should have reference to the honesty, fidelity and capacity of the appointees, preferring friends of the party in power for places where harmony and vigor of administration require its policy to be represented, but permitting all others to be filled by persons selected with sole reference to the efficiency of the public service and the right of all citizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to their country. right of all citizens to share in the honor of rendering faithful service to their country.

6. We rejoice in the quickened conscience of the people concerning political affairs, and will hold all public officers to a rigid responsibility, and engage that the prosecution and punish-ment of all who betray official trusts shall be speedy, thorough and unsparing.

7. The public school system of the several States is the bulwark of the American Repub-lic, and, with a view to its security and perma-mence, we recommend an amendment to the Constitution of the United States forbidding the application of any public funds or prop-

Constitution of the United States forbidding the application of any public funds or prop-erry for the benefit of any schools or institu-tions under sectarian schools.

S. The revenue necessary for the current ex-penditures and the obligation of the public debt must be largely derived from duties on importations, which, so far as possible, should be adjusted to promote the interest of Ameri-can labor and advance the prosperity of the whole country.

can labor and advance the prosperity of the whole country.

9. We reaffirm our opposition to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be devoted to free homes for the people.

10. It is the imperative duty of the Government to modify existing treaties with European Governments, that the same protection shall be afforded to the adopted American citizen that is given to the native hore, and that all that is given to the native born, and that all necessary laws should be passed to protect immigrants in the absence of power in the Btates for that purpose.

11. It is the immediate duty of Congress to investigate the effect of the immigration and importation of Mongolians upon the moral and material interests of the country.

and material interests of the country.

12. The Republican party recognizes with approval the substantial advances recently made toward the establishment of equal rights for women, by the many important amendments effected by Republican Legislatures in the laws which concern the personal and property relations of wives, mothers and widows, and by the appointment of women to the superiotendence of education, charities and other hubble trusts. The housest demands of this class. tendence of education, charities and other nur-lic trusts. The honest demands of this class of citizens for additional rights and privileges and immunities should be treated with respect-ful consideration.

13. The Constitution confers upon Congress

13. The Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Perritories of the United States for their government. In the exercise of this power, it is the right and the duty of Congress to prohibit and extirpate in the Territories that relic of barbarism, polygamy, and we demand such legislation as shall secure this end and the supremacy of American institutions in all the Territories.

14. The pledges which the nation has given to our soldlers and sallors must be fulfilled. The grateful people will always hold those who periled their lives for the country's preservation in the kindest remembrance.

ervation in the kindest remembrance.

15. We sincerely deprecate all sectional feeling and tendencies. We therefore note with deep solicitude that the Democratic. with deep solicitude that the Democratic-party counts as its chief hope of success on the electoral vote of a united South, secured through the efforts of those who were recently arrayed against the nation; we invoke the earnest attention of the country to the grave truth that a success thus achieved would re-open sectional strife and imperii the national honor and human rights. or and human rights.

We charge the Democratic party as being the same in character and spirit as when it sympathized with treason; with making its control of the House of Reprensentatives the triumph and the opportunity of the nation's triumph and the opportunity of the nation's recent foes; with reaserting and applianding in the National Capitol the sentiments of unrepented rebellion; with sending Union soldiers to the rear and promoting Confederate soldiers to the front; with deliberately preposing to repudiate the plighted faith of the Government; with being equally false and imbeelle upon the overshadowing financial question; with thwarting the ends of justice by its partisan mismanagement and obstruction of investigation: with proving itself, through the period of its ascendancy in the Lower House of Congress, utterly incompetent to administer the Government. We warn the country against trusting a party thus allke country against trusting a party thus alike unworthy, recreant and incapable. 17. The National Administration merits commendation for its honorable work in the management of our domestic and foreign affairs, and President Grant deserves the conPROPOSALS.
